

Notes:

Parking

Interview Questions:

Who taught you how to park? Who do you park beside?

In what part of the school lot do you most often park? Tell me about your parking philosophy (close, far way, etc.). What problems have you experienced while trying to park?

When did you first learn to park your car? Describe for me the most embarrassing parking incident you have had. Tell me about a time when you got a parking ticket.

Where is the most difficult place to find a parking space? Describe the weirdest place you have parked your car. Why do you find parking easy/difficult?

Describe step-by-step how you parallel park. How much practice did it take for you to master parallel parking? Tell me about how you did on your driver's exam on the parking experience. How long will you wait for a parking space? How much have you paid in parking tickets since starting to drive? How do you feel about a car that automatically parks itself?

Poll/Survey Question:

Do you obsess over getting the car perfectly within the parking lines?

Definitely

Never

It all depends (explain)

Photo Possibilities:

Parallel parking looking in the rear view mirror

Squeezing out of the car in a tight parking space

Someone coaching a driver into a parallel parking space

Putting money in the parking meter

Getting a ticket from under the windshield wiper

Practicing parking

Module Ideas:

Infographic results of the poll/survey

Photo collection of parking photos

Photos with quotes about driving test and parking tickets

Anecdotes about learning to park

News feature about all aspects of parking

Parking lot sketch with pull-outs where drivers park

Quote box of random parking stories